PIM Workforce Development Consultants will...

1. Identify your company’s workforce needs;
2. Match your needs with current available incentives and resources;
3. Support the application and resource implementation process; and
4. Establish relationships with community and government providers and funders.

Background

• PIM has uncovered more than thirty programs in our 5-state region that offer strategies and financial support for incumbent worker training and/or developing entry-level positions in graphic communications.

• PIM Workforce Development Consultants have already supported several PIM members in applying for current resources in their operations, positively impacting their workforce development needs.

• You can benefit by engaging PIM Workforce Development Consultants to better understand the opportunities of these programs and gain information to support the application and implementation process.

Why participate?

Discover workforce development opportunities and resources which can offset the costs to develop and train your future workforce. You’ll save on expenses related to training employees and costs associated with building new programs and/or supporting existing training programs. In the long run, by developing and deploying more strategic workforce development programs, your company stands to gain from creating strong, viable career pathways for future and current employees.
How Does the Program Work?

1 REQUEST ENGAGEMENT
Once you’ve requested engagement, you’ll complete a brief questionnaire to begin the consulting process and be sent a list of workforce development programs and incentives available in your state.

2 COMPLETE CONSULTING ENGAGEMENT
In a two hour direct session with PIM Workforce Development Consultants, either in person or via conference call, you’ll receive information and be advised on workforce development strategies and resources, specific to your needs.

3 RECEIVE DETAILED ACTION PLAN
Within 10-days, your company will be provided a customized written workforce development action plan with identified resources to begin the application process.

4 OPTIONAL – IMPLEMENTATION SUPPORT
Your company may choose to contract further with PIM Workforce Development Consultants to manage the resource application process, or choose to use internal resources to implement the detailed action plan.

Take advantage of these current state and federal workforce development programs
- Registered Apprenticeships
- Internship/Youth Programs
- Workforce/Economic Development Grants

We’ve been brainstorming for the past 10 years trying to figure out how to replace our aging skilled workforce. We met with the PIM Workforce Development Consultants and they brought up different avenues for us to pursue. We found this service beneficial and will continue to work with them to find a solution to replace our retiring skilled workforce.
